Remember, the shrewd investor always buys real estate in advance of the improvements and sells out to the fellow who wants a "sure thing" after the improvements are completed and the market has reached "top prices." You must also remember when the fool makes up his mind to buy the market has gone by. On March the 2d. 1901, the U. S. Senate passed the Memorial bridge bill without one dissenting vote. This should sufficiently assure any one who has even a fair amount of confidence in our government that the same bill will pass the House the coming session of Congress.
